ENSE 471 Lab #1
Name: Priscilla Chua
SID: 200363504
Due: Jan 23, 2019

University of Regina's Engineering website:
Engineering Home
- The overall of the design of the website pages look clean and comfortable
- The content of the website pages are clear and understandable
- The navigations are well organize, I know where I am going and do not get lost
- The website pages are easy to learn and use, just by clicking on the link button
- The highlight of the website pages of important information for the specific people, such as the page for parents and family or for faculty and staff
- There is a broken website page, the News & Events

Programs
- The overall of the design of the website pages look clean and comfortable
- The content of the website pages are clear and understandable
- The navigations are well organize, I know where I am going and do not get lost
- The website pages are easy to learn and use, just by clicking on the link button
- The divine of important information for the different kinds of engineering students, and it is useful for me to have general ideas what this kind of engineer is about

Students
- The overall of the design of the website pages look clean and comfortable
- The content of the website pages are clear and understandable
- The navigations are well organize, I know where I am going and do not get lost
- The website pages are easy to learn and use, just by clicking on the link button
- There proves the general information for the students needs or to know, such as the engineering office, the forms to apply, the useful information to get start to study or during the school year, and the events or benefits
- In the Forms section, it can directly prove all of the forms in the one website page rather than linking to another page

Faculty and Staff Directory
- The overall of the design of the website pages look clean and comfortable
- The content of the website pages are clear and understandable
- The navigations are well organize, I know where I am going and do not get lost
- The website pages are easy to learn and use, just by clicking on the link button
- The providing of information of each faculty and staff looks very useful for the people who is needed

Contact Us

- The website pages are easy to learn and use, just by clicking on the button and type in the information
- It proves useful form and other information to contact them